Team Moore Racing Signs Adrian Campos, Jr.

Pittsboro, IN February 11, 2010 - Adrian Campos, Jr. has signed on with Team Moore Racing to drive the number 22 Xtreme Coil Drilling machine in the upcoming Firestone Indy Lights season. Adrian is a second-generation racecar driver, being the son of renowned former Formula One driver and team owner Adrian Campos. The twenty-one year old Spaniard has previously competed in the European F3 Championship (formerly the Spanish Formula 3 Championship), racking up nine wins, 25 podiums, five pole positions and two fastest laps in his 82 races of that series. Adrian is now ready to conquer Indy Lights and eventually Indy cars here in America.

"Adrian's father has had teams in Europe that have won championships in everything from F-3 to GP2 and he is currently testing the waters of F-1 as a team owner," said TMR co-owner Mark Moore. "The man certainly knows what it takes to win races and Tom and I are very proud that he and young Adrian chose Team Moore Racing to take him to the next level in his career."

Adrian Campos (Sr.) noted: "This is a decision of a lifetime for my son and I support him. I am completely sure that he can be one of the best drivers in the USA. He is mature and he has enough experience to do a great job."

"We are really pleased to have Adrian as an addition to TMR," said co-owner Tom Wood. "His family has a tremendous racing background and we are honored to be chosen to work with him. I think he will be very fast in our cars. He has had success in Europe and it will be our job to insure that carries through to our series," concluded Wood.

"I am very happy to be in America and to be with TMR. I am sure this team and I will be very successful. I will learn a lot this season and will do my best," added Campos, Jr.

The entire team is thrilled to have Adrian on board and are preparing for the start of what will surely be an exciting race season.

First race: The Streets of St. Petersburg on Sunday, March 28th.
